

VUELING LAUNCHES A NEW FLIGHT FROM TURIN TO PARIS ORLY

The route will be served twice a week

Torino, September, 30, 2021 – Vueling today announces a new route from Torino Airport to Paris Orly with the start of the 2021/2022 winter season.

The annual connection will be starting November 2, 2021 and run twice a week, on Tuesdays and Saturdays, with tickets on sale as of today.

Serving the route between the Piedmontese capital and the French capital is an Airbus A321, which departs from Paris Orly at 6:55 am and arrives in Turin at 8:15 am; the take-off from Turin is scheduled at 9:05, arriving in Paris Orly at 10:30.

Vueling thus doubles its flights to and from Turin Airport: the new bi-weekly service to Paris Orly is in fact added to the historic connection to Barcelona, operational since 2013, which the carrier serves with up to 3 weekly frequencies in winter and on a weekly basis in summer. .

The Turin-Paris Orly flight schedules are very convenient for those who want to spend a long weekend in one of the two destinations, as well as functional to business traffic.

Prices starting from € 9.99 for direct flights, taxes and handling fees included. Airline tickets, prices and fares available on the website www.vueling.com, through travel agencies, call centers or the smartphone app.
